2021 JINGART will return to Beijing Exhibition Center on June 10th Presenting a Wide Spectrum of China and the World's Leading Exhibitors in Ancient and Contemporary Art and Design

The third Edition of JINGART will return to Beijing Exhibition Center from June 10th to June 13th as scheduled. 43 exhibitors from 11 countries and 24 cities are selected from around the world. JINGART focuses on modern and contemporary painting, sculpture, installation, new media art, design, furniture, jewelry and other forms of selected artworks. JINGART gathers global art power and explores the integration between traditional cultural history and contemporary art, establishing Beijing art ecology system in an all-round way.

Launched in 2018, JINGART is committed to combining the dynamic culture of Beijing with the international art market, in the hope of building a diverse and inclusive platform for local and international exhibitors. More than 30% of the galleries come from various countries and regions, stretching from Europe, North America to the East Asia. Local galleries continue to be strongly presented in the 2021 edition: 77% of galleries have spaces in China and other regions in Asia. This year, JINGART combines digital and physical presentation, extends the exhibition to online platform, and launches the PLATFORM unit for the first time, to provide galleries and collectors with a high-quality online display and communication platform.

2021 Exhibitors

World-renowned gallery such as Galleria Continua, ShanghART Gallery, Whitestone Gallery and David Zwirner all returned the third Edition of JINGART, presenting the high-quality artworks of domestic and foreign from multiple perspectives.
